 Electrical Engineering Subject File, 1940-1983

Arrangement and Access Note

The Electrical Engineering Subject File is arranged chronologically by academic year, then by classification code within each yearly run. Please note that the Electrical Engineering staff members who created this filing system sometimes reused classification codes, so one code may cover different topics over different time periods.

To access the records, first find a classification which you believe may contain records of value for your research question. A range of years covered by that classification is provided when that information was available. Use the date range provided and the box list that begins on page 22 of this finding aid in order to identify boxes you would like to examine. Please note that it is possible the date ranges are not accurate for some classifications. Also, not every classification code is included. Archives staff was not able to verify each one against the actual box contents.

If you need any assistance using this finding aid or record series, please contact the University of Illinois Archives at illiarch@uiuc.edu.
