CORRESPONDENCE FILE

Fisher's correspondence file is divided into two parts: files from Fisher's Library study carrel and files from Fisher's REEC office. Although the files are intellectually part of the same sub-series, the files from home contain more material of a personal nature. The files from the office concentrate more fully on REEC business. Additional provenance information is available in the Archives departmental file

Series 2: Soviet Studies Research

The series contains materials pertaining to Fisher's research on Soviet Youth in a project called Studies in Soviet Culture led by Dr. Margaret Mead. Fisher's research with Dr. Mead resulted in several publications by Mead (including Soviet Attitudes Toward Authority and Studies in Soviet Communication) as well as publications and projects by Fisher and other researchers including Fisher's dissertation, the Harvard Refugee Interview Project, Soviet Youth: Twelve Komsomol Histories, and eventually a co-authored text, Source Book for Russian History. Also included are Fisher's notes on texts written by Mead and other scholars, interviews with Soviet refugees, and Fisher's reactions to various texts and media from the Soviet Union (many inter-filed with the meeting minutes).

This series contains 'Margaret Mead: Soviet Studies in Communication files,' Soviet Studies in Communication Meeting Minutes, the Harvard Refugee Project, 'Soviet Youth: 12 Komsomol files,' Patterns for Soviet Youth, and Source Book files, all arranged chronologically.

Processing notes:

Upon transfer to the archives, slides which were not sorted or had been sorted for various presentations, were resorted to reflect Fisher's original film indices. Slides for the BYindex precede BX slides due to original traveling dates and reflecting Fisher's original index.

The abbreviations of slide titles are taken from Fisher's original film indices. Fisher used quotation and punctuation marks to indicate words identical to previous slide title. Because he made mistakes in using abbreviations, and we could not figure out intended titles, we decided to maintain his system, i.e. use of quotation marks and punctuation. Researchers will need to figure out originally intended titles.
